

Abstract

The title of graduation thesis:

Comparison of levels of fitness floorball players

The goal of graduation thesis:

The main objective of this thesis is to compare fitness levels of selected floorball players from Sweden and the Czech Republic using a battery of motor tests and also to compare the diversity and commonality in the same issue between defenders and offensive players.

Method:

To obtain the necessary information, a conditional testing parameters were used battery of motor tests.

Results:

To compare the level of conditioning variables, we used basic descriptive statistics. We expect better results of motor tests in groups of defenders before offensive players

Key words:

Floorball, movement abilities, testing.